HEARING ON TIBBLES CASE

Railroads File Their Answer with the Board of Transportation.

Injunction Now in Force is Good as Against the Roads in Despite of Am 3rder from the Bonrd.

Lincoln, April 6 .- (Special Telegram.)-The freight rate case on the Tibbles complaint came up for hearing before the secretaries of the Board of Transportation this forencon. George W. Berge of this city represented the complainant. The roads were represented as follows: C. F. Manderson for the Burlington, M. A. Low for the Rock Island, Ben White for the Elkhorn, W. R. Kelly for the Union Pacific, and J. W. Orr Missouri Pacific. Supplemental answers were filed by the companies, setting up the fact that the recent decision of the United States supreme court perpetually enjoints the board or the defendant companies from reducing rates below what they were in November, 1894, and also setting forth that the business of the roads would not justify the lowering of rates. The amended answers filed by the attorneys for the companies, besides setting forth the fact that the roads could not remain on a paying basis and make a reduction in rates. also quoted the provisions in the decision of the United States supreme court, whereby the Board of Transportation, this defendant and others were perpetually enjoined and restrained from reducing rates for the transportation of freight within the state of Ne-braska below the rates then (November, 1894) charged by the companies defendant in said suit, and this defendant mays that it is powerless to obey any order which may be en-tered by your honorable board in this pro-

son filed the following motion: Now comes the defendants, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad company and the B. & M. Railroad company in Nebraska, and move the State Board of Transportation to dismiss this complaint and cause, for the reasons following:

1. That the State Board of Transportation is without jurisdic ion or power to entertain this complaint.

That the complaint and cause should dismissed because of facts appearing

2. That the complaint and cause should be dismissed because of facts appearing upon the record.

2. That the State Board of Transportation and the defendants herein have been and are enjoined by the mandate and decree of the United States circuit court in and for the district of Nebraska, which order of injunction has been affirmed by the suppreme court of the United States, and of which injunction the State Board of Transportation has full cognizance and knowledge, and which said injunction is now in full force and effect.

4. That the only jurisdiction and tribunal for hearing the complaint herein, or any similar complaint, is in the United States court, according to the effect and in the manner prescribed by the supreme court of the United States in the case of Constituting the Board of Transportation of Newsley at a general angles to liver stantine J. Smyth, attorney general, et al. constituting the Board of Transportation of Nebraska et al. appellants, against Oliver Ames et al. decided at the October term. 1897, by the supreme court of the United States.

The entire afternoon was consumed in the discussion of this motion. The principal argument was made by General Manderson, who said that under the mandate of the sunorme court it would be a farce to go on with this hearing. The board had no authority or power to act and any finding it might make would be worthless. It would merely consume the time of the secretaries of the board, "and what was much more valuable, the time of the attorneys." He said that there was no reason at this time for any such complaint as had been filed. At no time in the history of the state had the relations between the companies and the people been more salisfactory, and a worthless complaint, whether for political purposes or in good faith, should not be taken up when it could amount to nothing in the end. In bis opinion the "disturbances brought about by political malcontents were in the greatest under foot by the officers of the state." The mandate of the court pointed out the only manner in which a reduction of rates could manner in which a reduction of rates could be effected, and it was folly to go on with the present hearing. He said that none of the companies would object to an inquiry into their affairs, and would offer every fa-

OFFER BOOKS FOR INSPECTION. The other attorneys for the corporations endorsed General Manderson's remarks and offered to open the books of their companies the full examination of the board, but they protested against the waste of time on he present fruitless proceeding. Attorney G. W. Berge for the complainant argued that the proper way would be to go ahead and escertain whether or not the rates were too high, and then decide if the board ought to or had power to act. He said there was no disposition other than to be fair with the companies.

This seemed to be in accord with the program mapped out, as Chairman Edgerton of the board of secretaries announced that the motion would be overruled and the would proceed with the testimony. He, how ever, observed that it would be better to adjourn over until tomorrow. This brought out a protest from the attorneys, who said that it was preposterous to go ahead with the farce. If the officers of the road were brought before the court to testify they could give very little information, as they could not be expected to carry an accurate table of figures in their heads. The only sensible way would be for the board to put its questions

Chronic Eczema spread all over my head.
I had two doctors and tried lotions, but received little benefit. The dreadful itching became almost intolerable, and when I was heated, the Eczema became painful, and almost distracted me. Tried CUTICURA REMEDIES, the Eczema rapidly disappeared, and I cam well with no trace of any cutaneous disease.

My father and two brothers were afflicted with the same thing. We all suffered terribly for a year and a half. Three cakes of CUTICURA OAP and three boxes of CUTICURA (ointment) reured the four of us completely.

My hands were completely covered with Eczema, and between my fingers the skin was perfectly raw. I could get no case night or day. I was in a rage of itching. My husband had to dress and undress me like a baby. The best physicians' medicines gave me no relief, and drove me almost crazy. I used the Curicuna (ointment), and five minutes after the first application I was perfectly easy, and slept soundly all that night, and I have not had the Eczema in two years.

in writing, furnish them to the companies and the clerks would be put to work compiling the desired information. Then, if neceseary, the officers could be called to give additional testimony. General Manderson said it was within the power of the board to do this in the regular discharge of its duties, but there was no reason for any complaint to be made in order to get at this information.

This plan met the approval of the board so quickly as to suggest the idea that it had all been agreed upon beforehand. The announcement was then made that the hearing

Supreme Court Allows the Filing of an Application for a Writ of Mandamus to Compel Proper Hearing.

LINCOLN, April 6 .- (Special Telegram.)-The supreme court this afternoon gave leave to file the application of Victor Rosewater for a writ of mandamus to compel the governor to act as the law directs in the matter of the complaint against the Omaha Police commission. The date for the hearing has not been fixed.

The papers were filed by Attorney Simeral of Omaha and consisted of a petition and copies of the charges and affidavits filed with Governor Holcomb.

The petition sets out that the complainant is a citizen and freeholder of Omaha; that he has filed charges with Governor Holcomb against Robert E. Lee Herdman, D. D. Gregory and James H. Peabody, police commissioners; that the law requires the governor to investigate the charges upon tes-timony adduced before him in person; but that he has refused and still refuses to hear the charges as required by law.

The petition sets up that the alleged hear-ing before a substitute is not in compliance with the law and asks that the court issue writ of mandamus requiring the Silas A. Holcomb, personally to hear and try the charges preferred in the complaint

Lcave was also granted to file the application of the Society of the Home for the Friendless for a writ to compel the payment of the state appropriation.
